God Put Faith in a Body

God put faith in a body. In the opening sentences of his gospel John tells us, “The Word became flesh and lived among us.” Before that God put faith in a different body when he sent the angel Gabriel to tell Mary that she would conceive in her womb a child and that the child would be the Son of God.

If God put faith in a body, why is it that Christians so often speak of Christian spirituality in disembodied terms? Why, are we so quick to separate the physical from the spiritual, damning one and lauding the other? Why do we assume that truly holy things are invisible. Especially when God chose to be born of a woman’s body just as you and I were.

Bodies matter. That truth we can plainly see from the beginning to the end of the gospels. Jesus fed the hungry. He cleansed the lepers. He gave sight to the blind. He opened the ears of the deaf. He raised the dead to life. He offered his body as proof of his identity when he invited Thomas to touch his wounds.

Christian spirituality should never be portrayed as an escape from or a rejection of our bodies, but rather a deeper engagement with our own bodies and the bodies of others. So many of us aren’t comfortable in our own skin. We don’t know what to make of or do with our bodies. We compare our bodies to others and give way to the deeply destructive standards of what passes in contemporary society for beautiful and acceptable. In Genesis we are told God looked at the bodies he had created and declared them “very good.”

What’s your relationship to your body? Do you like your body? Do you respect and care for it? Do you see it as holy and beautiful? Are you listening to it? Is there guilt, judgment, shame, or embarrassment about your body? Do you have joy and gratitude for your body? In what ways are you inhabiting your body? How are you seeing and caring for the bodies of others?

I am asking these questions here because I don’t think we can fully appreciate the significance of the Incarnation and the profound implications of the words “and the Word became flesh and lived among us,” until we learn to accept the gift of our own bodies. God put faith in a body.

Peace,

Tony

Meteorological Miscellanea

I write this two days after the autumnal equinox. The sun crossed the equator from north to south at 1.44pm BST on Sunday 22nd. It marked the start of astronomical autumn. Summer is over. Some folks may claim that our summer this year ran from Monday 16th September to Thursday 19th September inclusive. Blue sky for heaven's sake! Cirrus clouds! Tuesday 17th's eleven hours of sunshine made it the sunniest day since 31st August. We were soon back to haar, mist, fog and low cloud rolling in from the northeast. You name it. It was back to just dull.

This year January, February, March, April, May and August have all been wetter than average. June and July were actually drier than average, and September still has a chance! My 28-year average for annual rainfall is 45.95 inches (1167mm). So far this year we've clocked 39.65 inches (1007mm) with the three wettest months, on average, still to come.

On a brighter note, did anyone see the Aurora Borealis on 13th September? It was widely reported and as far south as South Sussex! That made several sightings this year and I missed them all. It is always worth stepping outside just before bedtime on a clear night. You never know your luck. Not a clear night was 9th-10th September - the wettest night since Storm Lilian in August. On the 10th it blew a gale gusting to Beaufort Force 9. I didn't sleep much. There's never a dull moment - ah, I've already used the word 'dull'.

BIG Gathering - A celebration of Faith in West Tweeddale 12th October, Broughton Village Hall 10am – 1pm

We are very pleased to confirm the details for the first Linkage wide gathering, to be held in October. The event will run from 9.45 am (coffee) through to 1pm (lunch). Everyone is invited for all or part of the event, as you wish, and as is convenient.

The topic is BIG. Overarching theme of the Ephesians with inputs Big Picture, Big Church, Big God (Ephesians 3 v1 to 21). The main event is being led by Peter Woods, Mission Officer for the Presbytery.

We have planned what we hope will be an enjoyable morning. There will be fun. There will be music. There will be craft (clay – don't wear smart clothes!). There will be food. There will be worship. There will be prayer. There will be laughter. There will be Fellowship.

To book your place, please let Kate Whalley know on kate@westlinton.com or contact your session clerk. Lifts and transport can be arranged, again, please let Kate or your session clerk know. Kate needs to know if you are planning to stay for lunch for catering numbers, and if you have any dietary needs (vegetarian, allergies etc.).

The event is completely free and everyone is welcome. You can join us for all or part of the morning – and can come and go as you wish. Deadline for registrations is Thursday 10 October.

Praise Band – appeal for musicians and singers

Can you help?

I am putting together a praise band to participate in the celebration of faith being organised by the parish of West Tweeddale on Saturday 12th October.

If you play an instrument (ANY instrument) or sing, could you come and join us?

We will be leading 4 hymns for which I can provide the music. If your instrument plays in a different key, parts can be provided in the correct key for you.

The hymns will be:

Gather us in by Marty Haugen

Knowing you by Graham Kendrick

Seek ye first by Karen Lafferty

Shine Jesus shine by Graham Kendrick.

Please contact me to let me know that you are interested, and I will send you the music.

With thanks, Anne Dawson, 07748638933

Linton Lifts – Appeal

A not-for-profit group

Offering you opportunities to be a good neighbour

Could you spare a few hours occasionally to take a neighbour to a medical appointment? Linton Lifts gives you the chance to make new friends in your own area by offering a door-to-door service to wherever the appointment is, since in some cases it takes three buses to get there and three buses back. Patients are often in an anxious state, and perhaps are quite elderly and/or no longer driving – a friendly face can make all the difference.

Drivers are reimbursed by the statutory mileage allowance and clients are simply asked to make a donation to Linton Lifts to cover this. Clients must be able to access a car without assistance (we cannot take wheelchair users, sorry) but we do take along carers when required.

We are in the foothills of running this service and in order to feel able to advertise it more widely we need more drivers to make themselves available so that no-one is asked to drive too frequently. When a request is made Margaret puts out a call to see who is available on the relevant day, so no need to have a day set aside on a regular basis – it's more whenever you happen to be free to help.

For more information, please email margarettorrance6@icloud.com, or phone Margaret on 01968 660 678 (leave a message if it is not answered).

Thank you

The Column

A prayer

Each week at our service we have a prayer from a person in the church family. Recently it was Sophie's turn, and she offered the following, partly familiar, words

Dear Lord

The crown weighs heavily on our leaders
We seek their guidance
Grant them the courage to change the things that they can change
Help them to bring a miracle of peace to the lands of Gaza
And of Ukraine, and to the peoples of Israel and Russia

The crown of thorns weighs heavily
And our lives are encircled with fear and troubles
Help us to bear what seems unbearable
Grant us the wisdom to know what we cannot change
Grant us the serenity to accept the things we cannot change

For a few moments of silence, we think of those who face sadness and loss

A child wears a crown of daisies
Bonny and blithe, unhindered by what they cannot do and do not know
Bring to us a time of innocence
Across our nation, let us be at ease with each other
With the unfolding of the day, let us be at peace with ourselves

Sophie Pilgrim
